MARKING BOYCOTT!

28 April

- Academic staff have had their pay cut for four years now while universities sit on a surplus of £1 billion.
- We need a fair pay offer to stop the cuts. We have tried negotiating. We have tried strikes.
- If there is no fair pay offer by 28 April, we will stop marking all students' work, indefinitely. We have no other choice.

Help us to avoid this action: email your vice-chancellor or principal today and add your voice to the call for fair pay.
